Video Post:

The video would look like the image below with the audio portion running as text across the bottom of the video like subtitles.

Script for Video Post:

The voice reading the script would be Mindy McHorse. Happy, uplifting music playing softly in background
Scene	Visual	Audio
1	The first image would be the one below or another with cute kids playing with a puppy	As we go through our lives each day, most of what happens blends in with the day before because it wasn't all that memorable.
		The moments that do get remembered tend to be those spent with friends, family, and especially our children when they are young.
		Often called "Quality Time", these precious, happy little moments in time stay with us for years and make us smile and laugh when we think of them.
	What follows would be home movies of kids and animals doing fun, silly things.
2	Cut to a neutral background with the words "How much quality time did you get today?" written across the screen.	The question is, how much of that time are you getting each day?
		If you're like most people, not as much as you'd like.
3	Slightly jarring chaotic music playing behind the voice
	Video of slow-moving freeway traffic	On average, you likely spend at least 9 hours each day paying for your life rather than living it.

		Between commuting to and from a job and all the aggravation of endless meetings and office politics,

		It can feel like a prison with no way out.

4	Uplifting, positive music playing softly in background for the rest of the video.	If this sounds familiar, don't worry because there's still hope for you.
		My name is Mindy McHorse, and I was stuck in a job just like that.

		For me, all that all changed when I found out about a site called The Barefoot Writer.
